

WENT TO SEE THE WHEELS GO 'ROUND

The Great Cycle Show Opens in a Blaze of Light and Color.

MOTOR CARRIAGES SHOWN

Electricity, Gasoline and Other
Devices Used for Making Them Go.

Blazoned in blue, in yellow, in green, in white, in red, in letters of gold on black grounds that were a study in effects, the word "Cycle" shone last night the length and breadth of Madison Square Garden. In electric globes that formed circles of fire, that were throned with colors, delicate and brilliant, that radiated information in straight lines of light one read "Never Out Lamp," "Fittings That Fit," "The Best Wheel," "Always Triumphant," "On to Victory," etc.

The wheeling community has had no such opportunity in two years as that presented last night, and which will continue to be presented throughout the week, of comparing the relative merits of different styles of machines. To the unlearned the show was a bewildering array of dazzling cycle gloriolations.

In the crowd of connoisseurs were many women who talked as learnedly as their escorts about bicycle construction. They paused in admiration before samples of welded fittings, snow chains, bi-gear lamps, saddles, headlights and all the array of paraphernalia that goes to make a perfect bicycle. They compared notes on saddles with the same gusto as they would have discussed modes in dresses or trimmings in millinery. They learned quickly that there were only a few standard patterns, and those as near perfection as possible.

No Freaks Are Shown.

The unaccomplished rider who goes to the show with the idea of seeing freaks will be disappointed. There are none on exhibition. The changes that have been accomplished toward bicycle perfection are all in the nature of refinement, and the new features to be found at the exhibit are, for the most part, in details. For instance the display of lamps is unusually complete. No less than twenty-five exhibitors have gas lamps, and there are three exhibits of electric headlights. The old-fashioned oil lamp is relegated to the list of "out-of-dates."

In the blaze of sunbursts and the glare of searchlights around and around a promenade built upon the arena boxes, which at the Horse Show represented luxury and fashion, passed hundreds of bicycle-lovers, among them large delegations from clubs, inspecting the models, comparing their advantages with those of their own.

A Great Show of Motors.

Perhaps the most novel feature of the new last night was the display of motor cars. They attracted a crowd of their own, and the opening of the exhibition is still regarded as a curiosity, and a guide was busy answering all sorts of questions as to speed, endurance, and the charging and maintaining of the control, etc. A light parcel device, worked by gasoline power, special attention and admiration. The picture catalogues are a sight to every eye. One firm began right to scatter pink and white cards, the declaration that they meant to keep it up all the week. To each car was attached a number. These numbers, it is rumored, will be raffled some time during the week and one of them will represent a bicycle. At certain lamp specialties immediately started in upon a similar plan. An inspection of the models displayed emphasized the fact that the makers no longer seek novelty in general construction. Diamond frames for men and drop frames for women are the accepted standards.

Some of the Improvements.

All makers endeavor to abolish the old-time binder and bolt fastenings for handle bar and saddle post. Bearings are constructed more scientifically than ever; the chain adjustment is simplified by devices which render the task of regulating the tension of a chain less disagreeable, while crank axle adjustments are simpler and require less time.

In frame construction it is significant that many have abandoned seamless tubing for the brazed tubing made from sheet steel. While, of course, the chief feature of the show is the changes, every manufacturer exhibits more models of the chain type than of the chainless variety. Bevel-gear predominates among the methods employed to disengage the chain and sprockets. Except for a few minor details it has changed none since its introduction. Another favorite gear is an similar principle. Instead of bevel gears, however, the disks on the axle and rear wheel, which take the place of the sprockets, are supplied with projecting roller pinions. They fit snugly in complementary recesses on the connecting shaft. This shaft does not run through a tube, but is in the centre of two rear stays. This gearing is exposed, but the nature of its construction prevents dirt or mud from interfering with its ease of running.

Eccentric chain adjustments will be exceedingly popular this year, many firms showing machines with this convenience. With the eccentric adjustment there is no difficulty in preserving the alignment of the wheels. The axles are on the sides of the wheel, immovably fixed to a common axle, and must perform move in unison.

More than a dozen patterns of horseless carriages are shown. Two bicycle concerns included the automobile in their exhibit. One prominent maker has three or four electrically driven vehicles and one carrier which depends on gasoline for propelling power. This carrier is capable of carrying 500 pounds one hundred miles at a ten mile an hour gait with one charge. The cost of running averages half a cent a mile. Old-time cyclists were appalled by a novel exhibit at the Spaulding booth at which Mr. A. G. Spaulding was personally in attendance. This exhibit was a display of various types of bicycles from the earliest stages of wheeling, arranged in chronological order.

The Sunbeam Spoke.

The Sunbeam spoke shown on wheels on almost every stand is a marked feature of the exhibition. The manufacturers of these spokes, the American Specialty Manufacturing Company, of Hartford, Conn., evidently have produced a popular novelty, as the Sunbeam is given as an option by many leading makers. They are made from wire rolled triangularly between round bolts, a form of construction for which 20 per cent greater strength is claimed over the regular swaged patterns. Fitted in the bicycle they are very effective and make a wheel extremely rigid as well as giving a beautiful effect.

CAMMEYER'S TO RE-OPEN MARCH 1.

Out of the Ruins Will Speedily
Come a Fine, New Structure.

Six shoe factories are helping A. J. Cammeyer repair the loss he suffered from fire last Wednesday night by putting their entire forces at work day and night manufacturing a new Spring stock for him.

These factories are in this city and New England, and by to-morrow orders for all the stock required will have been placed with them.

Mr. Cammeyer said yesterday that he would be ready for business by March 1, in time for the Spring trade. "I've had a large force of employees engaged in making out orders," he said yesterday, "and the work will be completed by Monday. So far I've paid no attention to cleaning out the ruins, because matters have to be adjusted between the insurance companies and myself. The insurance side of it is in the hands of Raliff & Co., of No. 58 William street, and by the middle of next week the work of repairing the building will begin. On Monday I shall put a force of 150 men at work removing the damaged stock and clearing away the debris. This will take about forty-eight hours.

"The stock that was left will be sold at auction, but it is not yet known how much it amounts to. To repair the building will take about thirty days. A large force of workmen will be put at it next week and the work can be finished easily in time for the March opening.

"When the store is reopened it will look just like it did before the fire, but I'm going to take advantage of the interval of repairs to make certain improvements which will put it in better shape than ever before. The interior of the building itself will be a model of convenience and beauty, while the stock will be unsurpassed in its completeness. One hundred and fifty of our employees will be engaged right along in making preparations for the reopening.

EAST SIDE TAILORS

LISTEN TO BARONDESS.

He and Several Other Labor Agitators
Address a Meeting in Apollo Hall.

For the first time in nine months the East Side coat tailors congregated in mass meeting yesterday afternoon, in Apollo Hall, No. 128 Clinton street, and listened to addresses by Nathan Wolff, Gustav Feder, Herman Robinson, Joseph Baroness, Benjamin Schweitzer, J. Miller and Samuel H. Jacobs, of the Clothing Cutters' Union. The sentiments of the several speakers were loudly applauded, and when that portion of Governor Roosevelt's message to the Legislature relating to the interests of labor was read the tailors applauded loudly. The purpose of the several speeches was to the effect that the manufacturers, and not the contractors, ought to be made responsible to the wage earners.

"Les Huguenots" for Charity.

"Les Huguenots" with a star cast will be presented Tuesday evening, February 7, at the Metropolitan Opera House, the Purim Association, having arranged for the production under the direction of Maurice Grau. The proceeds go to the United Hebrew Charities, and the Mount Sinai Training School. Boxes will be on sale Monday evening, the 23rd instant, at Temple Emanuel, entrance on Forty-third street. Seats may be procured any time after the 25th at the box office.

COMMON SENSE CURE.

PYRAMID PILE CURE CURES PILES PERMANENTLY BY CURING THE CAUSE.

Remarkable Remedy Which Is Bringing Comfort to Thousands of Sufferers.

Probably half the people who see this article, suffer from piles. It is one of the commonest diseases and one of the most obstinate. People have it for years, and just because it is not immediately fatal they neglect it. Carelessness causes an end of suffering. Carelessness about so simple a thing as piles has often caused death. Hemorrhages occur from no apparent cause and loss of blood causes death. Hemorrhages occur during surgical treatment, often causing death.

Piles are simple in the beginning and easily cured. They can be cured even in the worst stages without pain or loss of blood, quickly, surely and completely. There is only one remedy that will do it—Pyramid Pile Cure.

It attacks the inflammation immediately, seals the irritated surface, and with continued treatment reduces the swelling, and puts the membranes into good, sound healthy condition. The cure is thorough and permanent.

Here are some voluntary and unsolicited testimonials we have lately received:

Mrs. M. C. Hinkley, 601 Mississippi st., Indianapolis, Ind., says: Have been a sufferer from the pain and annoyance of Piles for fifteen years, the Pyramid Pile Cure and Pyramid Pills gave me immediate relief and in a short time a complete cure.

Major Dean, of Columbus, O., says: I wish to add to the number of certificates as to the benefits derived from the Pyramid Pile Cure. I suffered from piles for forty years, and from itching piles for twenty years, and two boxes of the Pyramid Pile Cure has effectively cured me.

Most druggists sell Pyramid Pile Cure or will get it for you if you ask them. It is one dollar per package, and it is put up only by the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich.

WHITE HAIR IS TURNING BLACK.

A Stroke of Paralysis Is Rejuvenating a Jersey Druggist.

HE IS 65 YEARS OF AGE.

The Silver Began Turning to Ebony First in His Mustache, Then on His Head.

It is seldom that a man's hair after it has once become white from age turns back to its original color, but that is what is happening to John H. Topping, the Metuchen druggist, who is rapidly sinking at his home in New Brunswick from a stroke of paralysis.

Mr. Topping is sixty-five years old. His hair had been perfectly white for five years when he noticed that his beard was gradually becoming sprinkled with black hairs. Soon the change of color was so apparent that his friends noticed it and it became the talk of medical circles. The druggist received many number of letters from unknown people who inquired what preparation he had used to bring about the result. Some inclosed stamps for a sample bottle. Unfortunately for him, he was not using any hair restorer, and thus lost a fortune.

In speaking of the change, Mr. Topping said he first noticed the black hairs in his mustache. They appeared first on the right side, and soon after black hairs became mixed with the white hairs of his beard.

"It was a reversal of the process," said Mr. Topping, "when a person's hair begins to turn gray. I have not the slightest idea what makes them come, but simply know that from day to day there are more black hairs in my beard and head, and if they continue at the present rate my hair will soon be jet black."

Mr. Topping was born in Rhinebeck, N. Y., and when but sixteen years old he suffered from fever for twenty days. His hair all came out, but in time returned. While practically bald-headed, he attended church one Sunday, but attracted so much attention with his bald pate that he remained away until his hair grew in again. On recovering from the fever his hair was jet black and curly. About ten years ago it turned white.

Lecture by the Maine's Chaplain.

Governor Roosevelt will preside at the lecture to be given by the Rev. John P. Childwick at Carnegie Hall on Sunday evening, January 29. The lecture is attracting great interest, particularly among United States naval officers, about fifty of whom from the Navy Yard will be present in full uniform. A section of the stage has been set apart for their use and also for several of the surviving sailors of the ill-fated Maine. Nearly all the boxes have been sold and seats are selling rapidly. Commander DeBanty, who is greatly interested, has been assured of its success.
